

Title: An On Demand Manufacturing Platform For Personalized Wellness and Medicine.

For personalized medicine to reach its potential to treat individuals more effectively than current practices, not only is selection of right drug and right doses critical, but also the right combination of drugs. To achieve this goal, Panaceutics scalable patented automated-on demand manufacturing platform produces and delivers personalized combinatorial formulations based on an individual's phenotype and genotype. This personalized platform produces a 30-day supply in an easy to swallow suspension that will decrease the pill burden associated chronic disease management and improve adherence to therapies, ultimately leading to improved medical outcomes.